Records of the Office of Congressional Liaison: A Guide to Its Records at the Jimmy Carter Library

Collection Summary

Creating Organization or Creator: Office of Congressional Liaison

Title: Office of Congressional Liaison

Dates: 1977-1981

Quantity: 166 linear feet; 166 linear feet open for research; 381 containers

Identification:

Accession Number: 80-1

Archival Research Catalog (ARC) Identification Number: 559574

Scope and Content: The files consist of congressional correspondence, memoranda, notes, briefing papers, campaign schedules, legislative reports, congressional mail summaries, telephone call requests, resumes, news clippings, publications and floor charts that represent the function of the Congressional Office.

These materials illustrate how the Office of Congressional entailed advancing the President's legislative programs on Capitol Hill while also insuring that congressional viewpoints and ideas were fully considered by White House decision makers. A substantial portion of the file deals with congressional, particularly Senate, correspondence. Also of note are the files of the Budget Task Force, a working group assembled to present the 1980 budget.

Creator Information: The White House Office of Congressional Liaison was headed by Frank Moore throughout the administration. The office grew from an original staff of thirteen to approximately forty staff members by the end of the administration. Lisa Bourdeaux, who was in and out of the office in many roles, concluding as Legislative Assistant to Frank Moore; Patricia DeSouza, who moved from secretary to executive assistant to Special Assistant for Congressional Liaison; and Patricia Carroll, who moved from secretary to administrative assistant.

The function of the Office of Congressional Liaison was to coordinate activities with members of Congress. Activities requiring coordination included scheduling, priority, and substance of legislation; federal grants; federal appointments; White House-Congressional correspondence; constituent concerns; and election campaigns.

*Biographical information on key office personnel is located at the end of the finding aid.
